

Bringing live music to Hengist Field Care Home residents

Here are some photos of the live music we've hosted at Hengist Field Care Home during October so far.

Live music is so important for our residents, as it really gives them something to look forward to; they love getting together with other residents they might not see every day and singing their hearts out!

We have some residents who can really struggle to remember things, but play them their most loved songs and they can remember every word, which is so wonderful to witness.

We have enjoyed music from the beautiful Keely Cook and the very talented Rob T, both are loved by our ladies and gents at our Home.
