

Young pianist Bailey plays for Hengist Field Care Home residents

On Monday 2 October, we welcomed a lovely young gent called Bailey, who came to play the piano for us at Hengist Field Care Home.

Bailey, aged 15, has only been playing the piano for a few months, but plays beautifully. He does not use song sheets, rather, he plays from memory and has even created his own music.

He is so talented and we were so happy for him to come and play for us to help build his confidence. Have we just watched a future young musical prodigy?!

Bailey – we think you are amazing! When you are famous and on the television, remember we saw you first here at Hengist Field! Nellsar is always happy to support and help upcoming talented people to make their dreams come true, and Bailey is always welcome to come and play the piano in our Home.

See you soon Bailey! Thank you for sharing your talent with us.
